The Elkton Progress puts it about right when it says the Courier-Journal ought to be ashamed of the way it is treating Col. John K. Hendricks in his campaign for Governor. We understand that paper has salaried correspondents who follow Gov. Beckham to his various appointments who load up that Journal from each place with "puffs" and when an item is forced in about Col. Hendricks' speaking it is condensed until it can scarcely be found. Such partisanship in a metropolitan paper would draw, and it will react on it for sure.

The trial of Jim Howard is progressing at Frankfort and the proceedings are full of interest on account of the testimony of court Henry E. Youtsey, whose story of the great murder conspiracy is full of sensationalism and of which are not altogether reasonable. The case will probably come to an end this week.

News From The County.

Happenings Among the County People as Reported by our Correspondents.

Hillsboro.

Mrs. Lucinda McIlroy is visiting her daughter Mrs. Mattie Greer, at Point.

Dr. A. M. Shields passed through here Friday enroute to MacKville. We understand the Doctor will leave Tuesday for Oklahoma to make it his future home.

Clyde and Billy Williams, of Bloomfield, visited relatives here Saturday and Sunday. Don't grudge so hard, Clyde, you will come again when the frost falls.

Quite a number from here attended the sale of Milton Sweeney near MacKville Saturday. Things are reported to have brought good prices.

Two of our neighbors got into an altercation over a contract a few days ago and would doubtless have settled it in common style, but one was a clerk and the other a lawyer, and so they took it out in quarreling.

Dogs broke into Mr. Felix Noel's sheep one night last week and killed four. Mr. Noel watched his sheep for several nights and killed several worthless curs that had infested our community.

An interesting Sunday school was organized at Forestburg Saturday evening which promises to be a success. Mr. Wilson was elected Superintendent, and among the teachers selected are Messrs. Wilbur Peter, Major Davis and James Barker and Misses Kay Harmon and Rose Adams.

A large and enthusiastic crowd gathered to the normal school here Sunday by Rev. T. D. Bird on the subject, "What is Man." This was Bro. Bird's first visit among us and we were indeed well pleased with his sermon. He will preach here again the fourth Sunday in May.

We have had lots of rainy weather this spring and farmers are getting gray behind with their work and so far very little plowing has been done. The present indications are that crops will have to be reduced to a smaller acreage or the farmers will go far behind that they will be unable to catch up with the work this season.

Will Sutton and wife, while returning from Forestburg Friday, had a narrow escape from what might have resulted in serious danger. When near the residence of W. E. Sutherland the horse became frightened and overturned the buggy throwing Mr. and Mrs. Sutton onto the pile, but both escaped without being seriously hurt. The buggy was badly damaged.

Mr. John Montgomery, while hauling hay on the farm of P. M. Shewmaker Thursday, stepped on a slick bank and fell, throwing his arm out of place at the elbow. It was replaced by Mr. P. B. Prather, who happened to be with him. Mr. Montgomery says he almost sufficed death, while his arm was being put in its right place.

The trustees of our district met Saturday evening to let the contract for repairing our schoolhouse. There was only one applicant for the work, that being Mr. Ewell Hardin. He is said to be a first-class workman and there is no doubt that when he finishes the work our schoolhouse will be a model one. The trustees have also employed W. E. Sutherland to teach the fall term. This will make a total of three teachers in this district.

Our neighbor, Mr. J. T. Prather, is being strongly solicited by people from all parts of the county to become a candidate for the Legislature and the matter is now being favorably considered by him and it is likely that he will emerge into the political field at any time. Mr. Prather is a school teacher and farmer of many years experience and is ever ready and willing to aid in that which will advance the interest of his community.

Mr. Joseph Burkhead purchased one cow from William Parish for $25.

Harry G. Woodard, E. D. and Walter Weis spent several days last week in Louisville. They were accompanied home by Walter Harold Brown.

Mr. Bailly Pinkston and wife, of Pullman, spent Monday with Mrs. Mary Hughes.

Les Grider lost a very valuable horse last Saturday night. Grand Scroggins was also a loser of one of his horses.

Everything looks quite fresh and green, but not much farm work has been done yet, owing to the rainy weather.

J. B. Hill sold to T. Carrico a yearling calf for $22. Mr. Ballard sold to later a heifer for $17. Marion Simms sold Will Hamilton a yearling heifer for $18.

Will Mudd sold to Lloyd Simms three shots at $3. Lloyd Williamson sold to Ben Simms a young sow $10.

T. Carrico and Jim Montgomery had a horse swap. The former got about $50 to boot.

Thomas Bandford sold a young horse to Eugene Lancaster of St. Mary's, for $100.

J. M. Simms & Co. moved their grain mill to Gasburg.

Chas Nally sold Ed Kinsell a young mare for $100.

Thomas Nally sold to Bill Hinton a mare for $100.

Chas Nally bought a mare of Robt. Wheatley for $140.

Arthur Corbett has begun work for Martin Spalding.

Alex Bandford, of Louisville, visited his mother, Mrs. Pattie Bandford, Saturday and Sunday.

Several from here attended the festival at Bincos Saturday night.

Misses Laura W. Costley, Carrie Smith and Etta Hill attended the Teachers' Association at Lebanon Junction Friday and Saturday and reported it a success in every respect. Many county carried the banner home with them, and should have been proud to find this county should certainly have had the honor of bringing it home.

APHORISMS.

Contentment gives a crown where fierce lust denies it—Ford.

Contentment is the companion of all other human virtues—Mazzini.

He who will take advice gets knowledge; he who trouble overtake him—Kallir.

The more one speaks of himself the less he likes to hear another talk of—Lafayette.

The realist and earnest way to get rid of enemies is to correct ourselves—Demosthenes.

Character and personal force are the only investments that are worth anything—Whitman.

His not posterity, but your action, that will perpetuate your memory—Hutchinson.

Chalmers would soon starve and die if it were not for the fact that it is a thing nobody took it and gave it a lodging—Lafayette.

Civility is a charm that attracts the love of all men, and too much is better than to show too little—Bishop Horne.

Know People's Limitations. She was a doctor's little girl. In her father's office she had seen a number of boxes of oysters, and she had seen a box of oysters. "This side up, with care," in answer to her question her mother had said, "Yes, yes, when people get these boxes they don't know what is in them, and if it is something that might break it wouldn't be good for it to get up-side down."

The little girl pondered over it for some time. A few days later she came to her mother, saying, "Mamma, when God made us he put a sign on our foreheads that says, 'This side up, with care.' Why? I asked the mother, smiling. 'Because I heard papa tell somebody that it was best for people to be on their left sides, and it wouldn't be good for their hearts, and I know papa doesn't know what is inside us.' Little Chronicle.

Then She Remembered. Near the elevated road in Park place is a horse and carriage stand. She is very absentminded. Also sympathetic. A ragged street urchin ran up to her. "Say," he yelled, "your little boy has been run over by a big truck!"

Where? Where? For goodness sake, where? shrieked the woman, rushing wildly down the street. She ran half a block and then stopped suddenly. "Lord, what an old fool I am!" she said to herself disgustedly. "I have no little boy. I've never been married. Mention the street urchin had stolen four apples and a bunch of grapes."—New York Press.

A Wonderful Harbor. Puget sound is one of the finest harbors in the world. It is not the finest—deep bay over a hundred miles long cut off from the ocean by the mountains western peninsula of Washington. The waters nearly everywhere are deep, the shores abrupt, and the tide is moderate. Ships may go from Tacoma half way to Alaska without being out of this great sound and its extensions northward—Ray Standard Baker in Century.

One of our cars ran over another one last night, announced the superintendent of the street railway line. "Well," replied the president, "after while the people will learn that the only safe place is about the car and that a cent is a small price to pay for safety."—Chicago
